HONORS COLLEGE/WISE/UNIVERSITY SCHOLARS

Admission to these programs is highly competitive, and based on a variety of factors including high school academic record, strength of curriculum, standardized test scores, honors and awards, extracurricular achievements, leadership skills, unique individual talents, and life experiences that make students a good fit for their preferred program. Successful applicants (the middle 50th percentile ranges) have historically had 95-99 high school GPAs, 1350-1480 SAT (Critical Reading + Math) composite scores, and 30-34 ACT composite scores.

☐ Check this box if you would you like to apply to The Honors College. High-achieving students enjoy innovative seminars, small classes, leadership opportunities, and the social and academic atmosphere of a small liberal arts college within a major university.

☐ Check this box if you would you like to apply to Women in Science and Engineering (WISE). Women who are interested in mathematics, the sciences, and engineering benefit from a close-knit community of talented scholars, mentoring, small study groups, early hands-on research, special classes and enrichment programs, and close faculty contact.

☐ Check this box if you would you like to receive priority consideration for University Scholars. A vibrant four-year honors program for high achieving students focused around academic excellence, leadership development, and community engagement through a set of freshman seminar classes, special programming, and group activities. All applicants are automatically considered for University Scholars. However, those who request priority will be given special consideration.

You may apply to The Honors College, University Scholars, and WISE. Applicants, however, can only be accepted into one program. If you are applying to more than one of these programs, check your preferred program:

- ☐ The Honors College
- ☐ University Scholars
- ☐ Women in Science and Engineering (WISE)
